

If you saw a child in danger, you would help. In Texas alone, more than 100,000 children each year are reported victims of severe physical or sexual abuse, with thousands more going unreported. While you may not witness this abuse yourself, you can help. The team at the Children's Advocacy Center of Collin County – investigators, law enforcement, social services, therapists and more – serves as the eyes and ears for abuse in the community. They partner to offer safety and healing to our most vulnerable citizens, and work to ensure the conviction of offenders. How to help? Visit us online. Come tour the Center. Donate your time or your dollars, knowing they will make a world of difference to an endangered child right here in Collin County. caccollincounty.org
